New appointment brings clinical and business experience to Siemens Healthcare

Managed Equipment Service team appoints new PFI Account Manager for the South

Siemens Healthcare has appointed Nick Rowan to the role of PFI Account Manager for the South of England. Nick will work closely with the operational and sales staff to manage and expand the contracts of the London MES sites which includes Barts and The London NHS Trust, Barnet and Chase Farm Hospitals NHS Trust and Barking, Havering and Redbridge Hospitals NHS Trust.

Previously, Nick was the National Sales Manager for Marconi Medical. He also held the role of CT and MR product manager in the UK for Toshiba and in Australia as an applications specialist. He has worked in sales positions for the PACS (Picture Archiving and Communications System) company StorComm, and is a qualified radiographer.

“Nick is a great addition to our team. We look forward to benefitting from his global experience and expertise,” states Paul Milligan, Head of PFI and Major Projects at Siemens Healthcare. “He will play a key role in assisting the MES team to develop opportunities and enhance the value added at customer sites.”

Outside of work, Nick has four children and enjoys playing golf and travelling.
